ASSOCIATION OF GAMING EQUIPMENT MANUFACTURERS (AGEM) ANNOUNCES RESULTS OF OFFICER ELECTIONS

LAS VEGAS – The Association of Gaming Equipment Manufacturers (AGEM) announced today that its Board of the Directors has elected a new slate of officers under the leadership of Thomas A. Jingoli, Chief Compliance Officer for Konami Gaming, as the organization’s President.

Jingoli’s position as President was not up for election as he transitions into the second year of a 2-year term, but 1-year terms were approved for:

- First Vice President Dan Savage (Chief Administration Officer, Scientific Games)
- Second Vice President David Lucchese (Executive Vice President, Games, Everi)
- Secretary Mark Dunn (Executive Vice President & General Counsel, Aristocrat Leisure Limited)
- Treasurer Tom Nieman (Vice President of Sales & Marketing, JCM Global)
- Vice President of Government Relations Steven DiMasi (Vice President of Global Government Relations, IGT)
- Co-General Counsel Harper Ko (Deputy General Counsel - Gaming, Scientific Games)
- Co-General Counsel Daron Dorsey (General Counsel, North American Operations, Ainsworth Game Technology)

AGEM is a non-profit international trade association representing manufacturers and suppliers of electronic gaming devices, lotteries, systems, table games, online technology, key components and support products and services for the gaming industry. AGEM works to further the interests of gaming equipment suppliers throughout the world. Through political action, regulatory influence, trade show partnerships, educational alliances, information dissemination and good corporate citizenship, the members of AGEM work together to create benefits for every company within the organization. Together, AGEM has assisted regulatory agencies and participated in the legislative process to solve problems and create a business environment where AGEM members can prosper while providing a strong level of support to education and responsible gaming initiatives.
